Base Products CORPORATION

Protect Your Home with a Water Powered Backup Sump Pump

How it works?

- When water rises above the normal high water level in your sump pit, for any reason, the Basepump float lifts.
- The float then opens a valve, sending municipal water through the Basepump Ejector.
- This water flow creates powerful suction, which draws sump water up from your pit and discharges it outdoors.
- Once the float returns to its normal level, a pre-set timing control keeps Basepump pumping long enough to completely drain the sump before switching off.

Highly regarded by plumbing industry professionals, Basepump water powered backup sump pumps set the industry standard for durability, reliability, and innovative design. Ultra-reliable, Basepump has no battery, motor, or moving parts to wear out. The pump is fully automatic - it starts pumping when it is needed, whether you are home or away.
